Facts about Heusden!

Heusden is more than 800 years old.

Heusden is a fortified city: thick walls were once built here to protect the town from intruders.

In 1569 the city was besieged and largely destroyed by the Spanish.

In 1572 a great fire reduced a third of the city to ashes.

In 1680 lightning struck the castle, right where 70,000 pounds of gunpowder and 1,000 grenades were stored... Boom! The castle exploded and a large part of the city was destroyed.

Between 1968 and 1980, Heusden was completely restored, exactly as it looked in 1649, based on old maps.

In 1980 Heusden won the highest European award in the field of restoration.

Now around 350,000 people visit every year to walk along the city walls and through the charming streets.
